

WE ARE RECRUITING

DEFENSE ANALYST

JOB TYPE (REMOTE)

POSITION SUMMARY:

- The Defense Analyst plays a critical role in analyzing and interpreting data related to national defense, military strategy, and geopolitical trends. This position requires the ability to assess complex information from various sources to inform decision-making, policy development, and operational planning in support of national security objectives.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Data Analysis: Analyze quantitative and qualitative data related to defense capabilities, military operations, and international relations.
- Research and Reporting: Conduct comprehensive research on emerging threats, global military developments, and defense policy issues.
- Prepare detailed reports, presentations, and briefings for senior leadership and stakeholders.
- Policy Support: Assist in the formulation, evaluation, and implementation of defense policies and strategies.
- Collaboration: Work closely with military personnel, government agencies, and other stakeholders to gather insights and share findings.
- Monitoring and Assessment: Monitor geopolitical developments and defense activities to identify potential risks and opportunities.

PREFERRED SKILLS:

- Knowledge of current defense policies, military organizations, and international relations.
- Experience with geographic information systems (GIS) or data visualization tools.
- Familiarity with budget processes and resource management in a defense context.

APPLY NOW

SHARE YOUR CV

CAREER@GEOINDOPACIFIC.COM
GEOINDOPACIFIC